

Campus Antisemitism

Report Card™ BETA

March 3, 2025

What's Happening on Campus?
Administrative Policies
Jewish Life on Campus
Campus Conduct and Climate Concerns

Introduction to the Report Card

ADL's Campus Antisemitism Report Card is a tool for students, parents, alumni, college faculty, guidance counselors, admissions consultants and other stakeholders. Our goal is to serve students and their families looking for information about the current state of antisemitism on campus and how particular universities and colleges are responding.

ADL's Report
Card 2.0

assesses

135 schools

based on

30 criteria

separated into

3 categories:

Administrative Policies

Jewish Life on Campus

Campus Conduct and Climate Concerns

Campus Policy Changes Over Time

While the expansion of criteria and the increase in schools assessed complicate direct comparisons, the improvement in grades from 2024 to 2025 can in large part be attributed to new administrative initiatives, implemented in response to the campus antisemitism crisis, aimed at enhancing the campus climate for Jewish students and the student body as a whole.

While only 23.5% of the assessed colleges and universities received As and Bs in 2024, that percentage rose to 36% in 2025. Additionally, while the 2024 and 2025 Report Cards do not enable an apples-to-apples comparison, the grades of 46% of the original 85 schools assessed in the 2024 Report Card have improved over the past year – with 34% receiving a one-letter grade increase in 2025, while a further 12% saw their grades improve by two letter grades and only 9% experienced decreases in their grades.

Despite 45% of institutions seeing no change in their report card grades, this should not be interpreted as an absence of progress. Grades reflect a complex interplay of multiple factors, including the frequency and severity of antisemitic incidents and the effectiveness of institutional responses. Policies may be in place that support improvement, yet emerging incidents can temporarily offset advancements.

Efforts Accompanying the Report Card

Take Action initiative

8,275

Individuals took action, writing to their institutions to demand improvements in addressing campus antisemitism.

To accompany the report card, an ADL webinar series was organized, enabling colleges and universities to learn best practices and ways to enhance their grades. During this series, attended by 70% of the 85 institutions assessed in the first iteration of the report card, university leaders explored best practices for incident response, the implications of divestment, and insights from our latest campus research, among other topics. 68% of the 85 schools assessed in the 2024 iteration engaged in consultations with our regions following the release of the report card while 75% of the 135 colleges and universities assessed in the 2025 Report Card provided information to inform our 2025 assessment.

We also launched a 'Take Action' initiative that allowed campus stakeholders—including students, parents, alumni, faculty, and staff—to actively engage by writing to their institutions, urging improvements in addressing campus antisemitism. This action was taken by 8,275 individuals, demonstrating the significant influence our Report Card had in mobilizing people to demand better from their schools.

National Impact

The report card's influence has also reached Congress, shaping policymaking and key discussions in hearings with university presidents focused on the campus antisemitism crisis. During one such hearing, Congresswoman Elise Stefanik cited the report card while questioning Northwestern University President Schill, highlighting its role in driving critical conversations on accountability. Immediately after the release of the 2024 Report Card, Congressman Jared Moskowitz applauded the grading effort, stating

The number one obligation of colleges and universities is to keep students safe. Yet, the comments of some presidents and administrators show severe neglect for the safety of Jewish students at a time of rising antisemitism. This ADL report will say the quiet part out loud and help hold universities accountable and protect students.
